Is it ever possible in this world to be able to explain the complex, or show the inner most? Are we capable of expressing our true feelings, or do we just touch the surface? — Skins

"Every man ought to be inquisitive through every hour of his great adventure down to the day when he shall no longer cast a shadow in the sun. For if he dies without a question in his heart, what excuse is there for his continuance?"

STUDENT LIFE

"If you have money, it doth not stay,
But this way and that it wastes amain:
What does it profit you, anyway?"
Francois Villon, "Seemly lesson to the Good-for-Noughts"

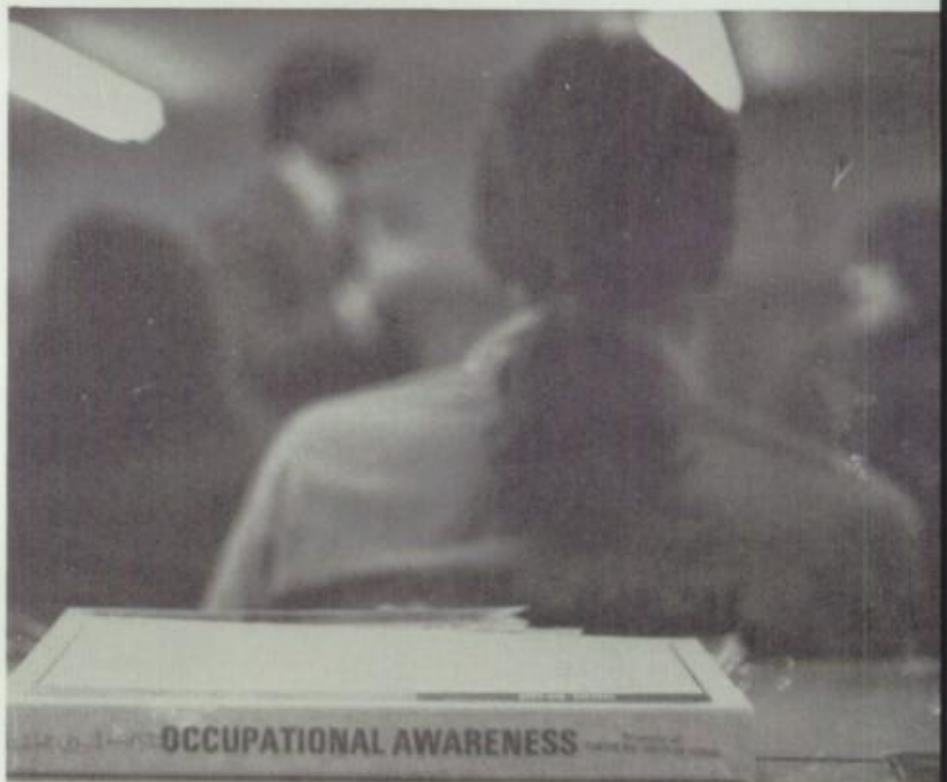

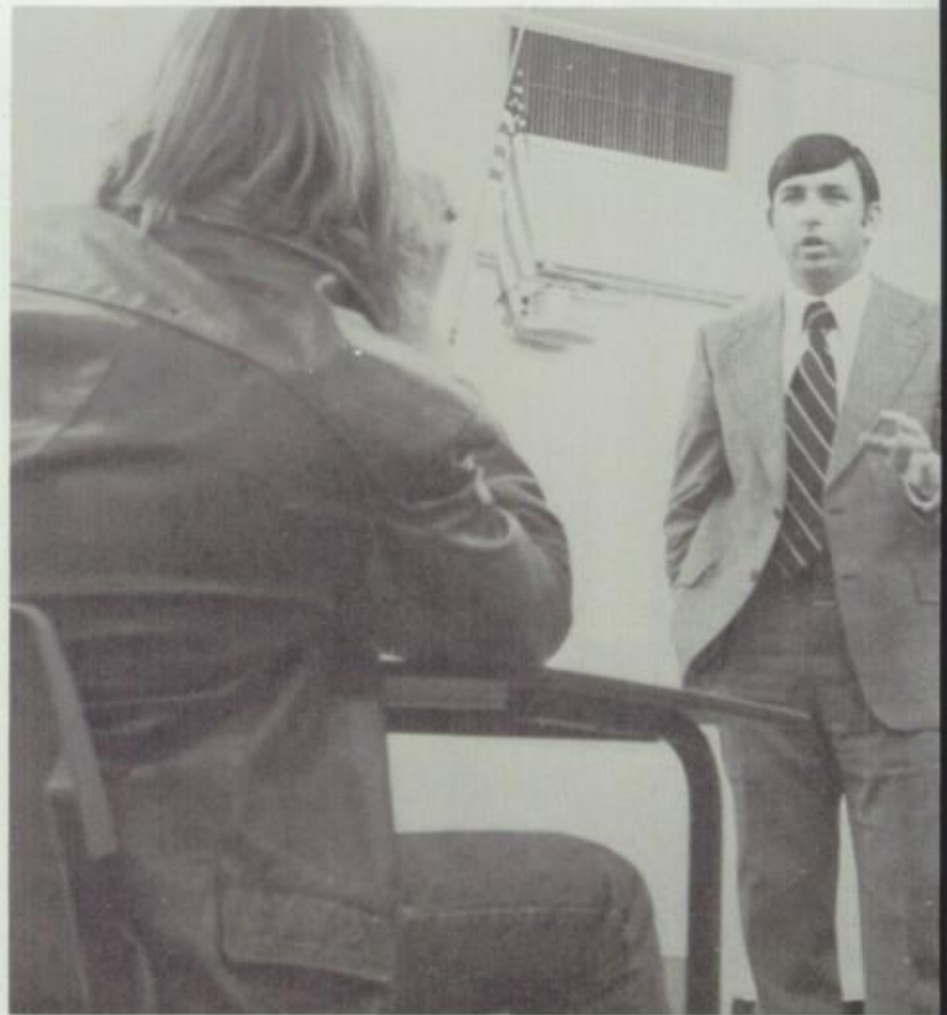

Life Planning

The life planning center at Canyon Del Oro operates on three basic levels; the students, the faculty, and the community.

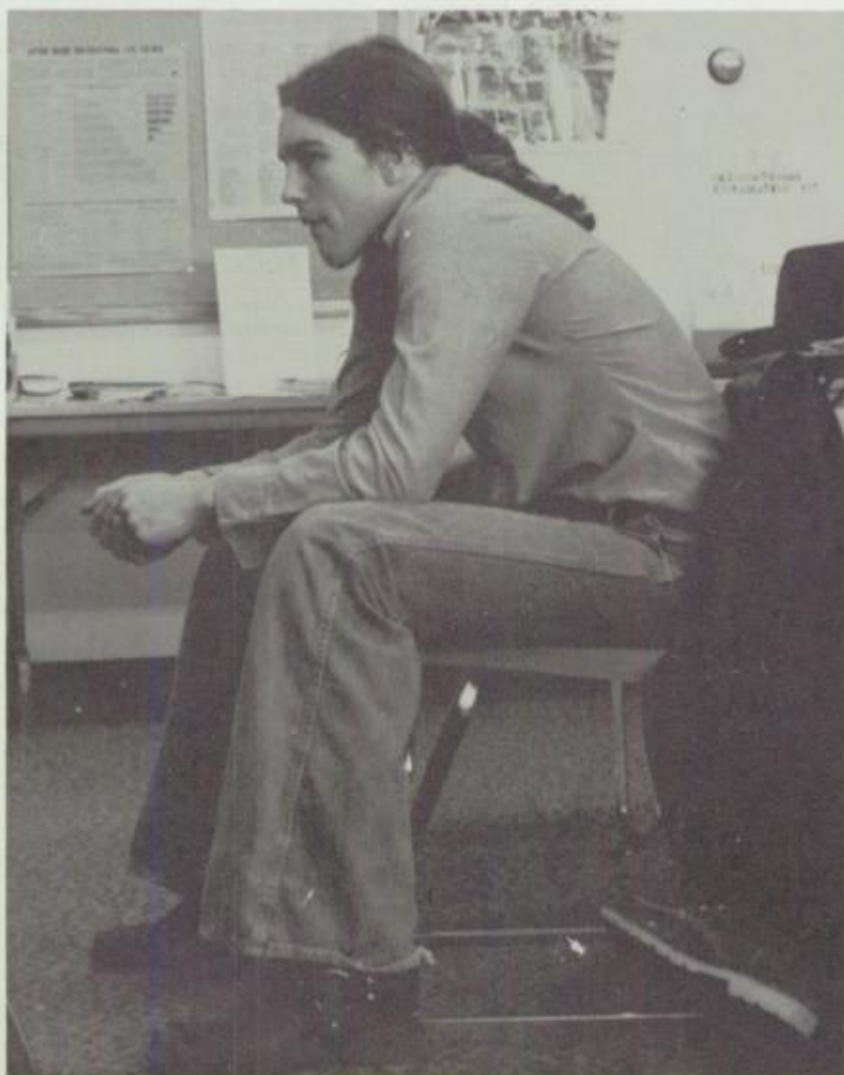

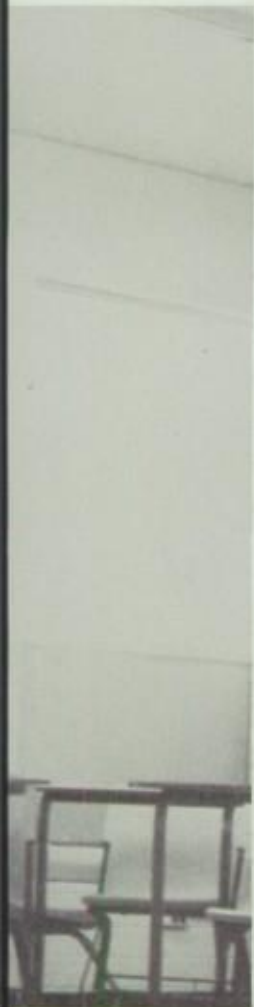

On the students level it serves as a center where teachers may take their classes to hear speakers of their choice on different vacations. Part of this student involvement is a required two-week unit on career education for sophomores, in which the students prepare papers on their lives and interests in order to help themselves and the counseling staff, in a search for a career that they would find fulfilling.

On the faculty level, there are eight teachers taking in-service training in order to become advisors to students. When these teachers are fully trained it will relieve a large portion of the student communication (notifying students about their absences) from the administration work load. Also when teachers are evaluated, part of that evaluation is on how and how much they used the life planning center in their classes.

At the community level, the life planning center has offered classes through the Community schools program on career guidance. The life planning center contains information on career guidance, the college catalogue room and a friendly easy going atmosphere that makes it a nice place to spend some free time.

LOWER LEFT, keeping the students interest.

Cooperative Office

The Cooperative Office Education program at Canyon del Oro, serves to give students the opportunity to gain experience in dealing with people and working while earning some money at the same time.

Mrs. Greenway, the coordinator for COE, finds and places students in jobs. She makes regular coordination visits to insure that the students receive the proper work experience and to solve any problems.

One of the biggest problems of COE is informing the students that the program exists and that they are able to enter it. To qualify for the program a student must have taken typing or one unit of business education. Two of the reasons for the general acceptance of COE are that it provides a steady supply of part-time workers to the business community and also that students at Canyon have schedules that are more adaptable to working than students at other schools.

Administration

Canyon del Oro's administration stressed several new items this year. One of great importance was the Life Planning Center and the computer system. Throughout the year the administration traveled to many different high schools in the United States, comparing the different ways of teaching and the format. There was also a new program for the gifted which involved students with certain talents in different fields such as drama, ceramics, auto mechanics, math, and science. The students were identified by a teacher who perceived their specific talent. The students were then placed in a special group with emphasis on his or her specific interest.

The diversity of background and experience between Mr. Wilson, Mr. Ritchie, and Mr. Lennon provided a balanced outlook on such matters as student activities, campus policies, and discipline.

Library And Bookstore

This year the library is offering more facilities to the students enabling them to better their study habits. Coming in January there will be a wide variety of reference books along with a new micro film reader. Film strip projectors will be added to the library.

"We want everybody's goal this year to be to treat the library as a library rather than a recreation center," says Mrs. Yoder. Perhaps with these new facilities the students will learn to use them more to their own advantage.

The bookstore has many responsibilities. Along with providing students with the books and supplies they need, they also handle money for various school clubs.

This year during registration the book store serviced over 400 students per day. Due to better sales, the bookstore may decide to extend their hours during the registration day. This will help to lessen the confusion.

Cafeterial/Custodial

From making fried chicken to scraping it off the walls, the cafeteria and janitorial staffs do their jobs. Each day the ladies in the cafeteria put out meals that contain all the basic daily requirements for a complete and balanced diet. The careful preparation and hard work that goes into making Hamburgers, french fries, and bean burritos is amazing. On Holidays one can even look forward to a treat such as fried chicken or even roast turkey.

From the time that school lets out until about 8:30 or sometimes even 10:00 you can see our janitors hard at work. They sweep, vacuum, and clean every room on campus. Whenever anything destructive happens the janitors are called to clean it up. These people are perhaps the most underrated workers in the school.

English

Martians and Hobbits coexisted with the traditional nouns and verbs in this years English curriculum. One of the strong points in Canyon del Oro's English Department was the wide variety in course content and approaches utilized by teachers.

Many classes were aimed at the bright students of the Freshmen and Sophomore years. Some of these students were able to take a test to evaluate their abilities in English, and if they scored highly they could go on to elective courses.

Walking down the hall of the 300 wing where most of the English classes were taught, a student was likely to hear strains of Gypsy music coming from Ms. Roten's class mingled with the dim chanting of nouns, participles and verbs from Ms. Sullivan's Grammar class across the hall.

Foreign Language

The foreign language teachers teach five skills: comprehension, speech, writing, reading, and culture. Each level of the language stresses more than one skill. While learning the culture the Spanish students also learned a few Spanish games. To get the students more interested in the language the teachers had them participate in outside activities. One of the activities for the German students included going to an October festival. There was various entertainment at the festival. Monsieur LoMaglio's second year French students tried their skill at preparing and eating a French meal once every month. Senor Sanchez's advanced class had the opportunity to eat dinner at the Comedy Dinner Theatre.

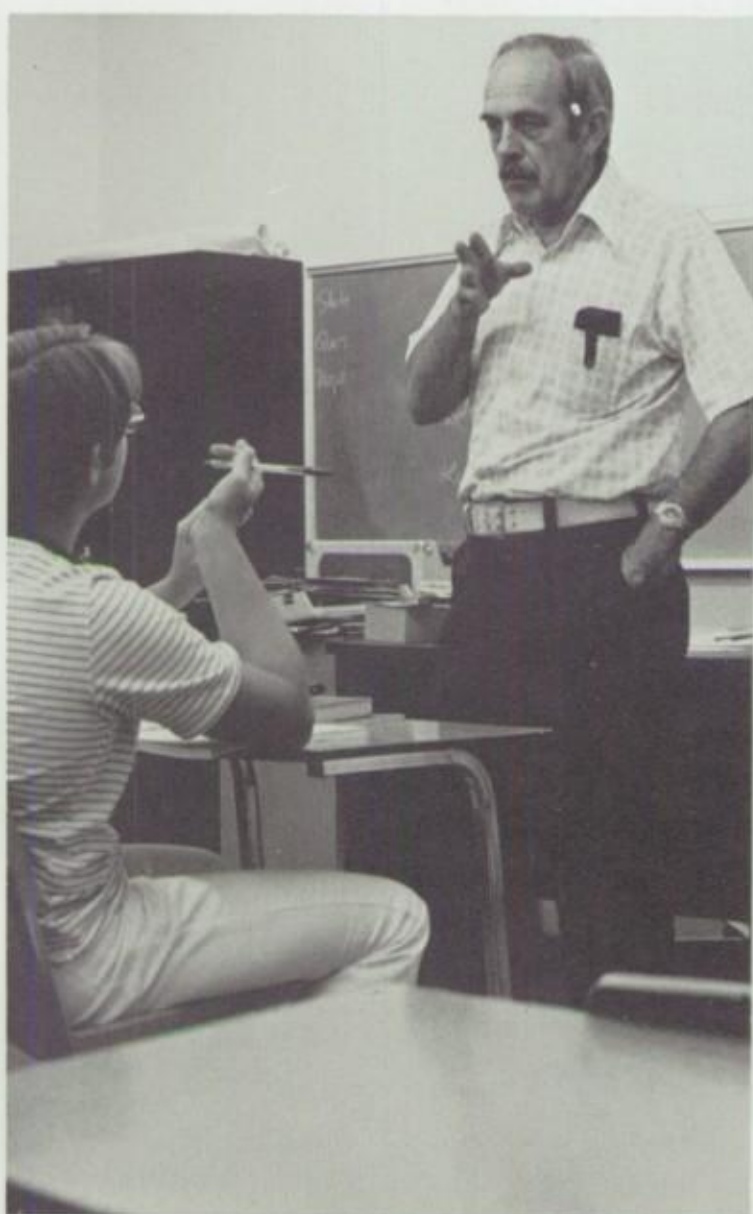

There was a lot of participation this year in foreign language week. Foreign language week was filled with bake sales. This year Canyon del Oro students participated in a foreign language festival. Students put on skits, dances and song. Throughout the program students put on commercials.

History

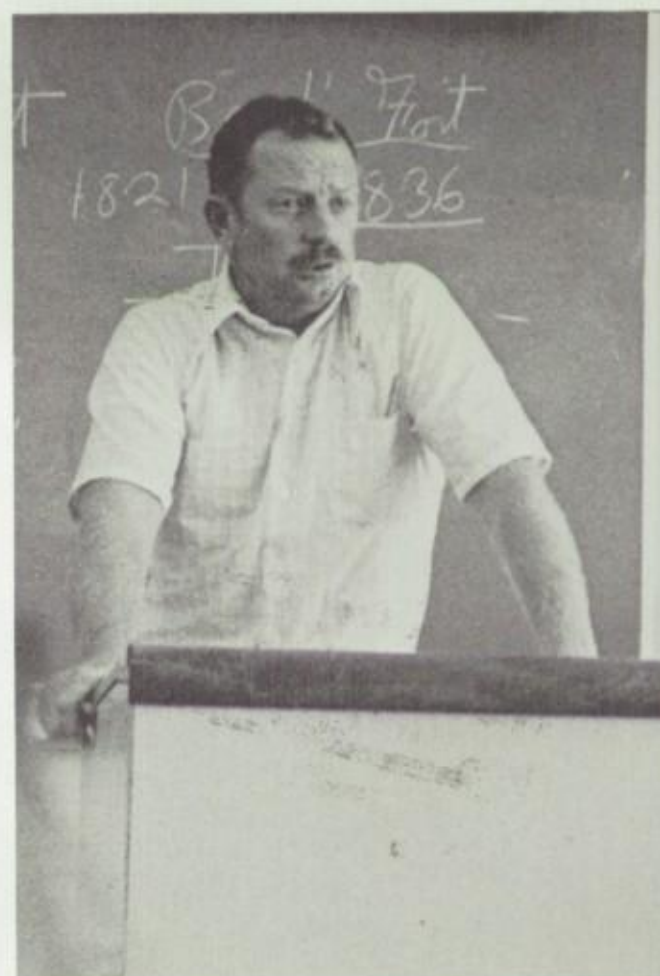

An extra half-credit was added to this year's Sophomores and Freshmen graduation requirements. Because of this there have been two classes added to the History Department; they are American Comparative Economics and Consumerism. There is also one new teacher, Mr. Davis and Ms. Gubser now teaches two History classes as well as three English classes. Mr. Davis was a member of the first graduating class of C.D.O. in 1968

All the classes this year except the "Free-Enterprise" course, which is a one semester course and is only open to Sophomores, are nine week mini courses.

Mini courses are an experiment so the students can have a selection of different courses. These courses range from plain History to Psychology and Sociology.

American Comparative Economics compare other countries economics with our own country's economics.

Fine Arts

The Fine Arts department is made up of chorus, drama, band and the regular art classes.

The drama classes include beginning drama, advanced drama, one act play, and theatre arts. In theatre arts the students are required to build scenery, operate lights and do several other things necessary to the production of a good play.

The C.D.O. marching band is one of the best in the state. In past years they have won many awards.

The stage band plays mainly rock music. They are required to play at a number of school activities and assemblies.

The classes affiliated with chorus are: Advanced vocal ensemble, mixed chorus, beginning girls chorus and mixed chorus.

There are five art classes. They are taught by Mr. Fausher, and Ms. Nesbitt. These classes are: sculpture, beginning art, advanced studio art, Introduction studio art.

Science

The format for this year's science department was hard at work, which was especially stressed in physics, chemistry, and biology. The physics classes basic mode of study was dynamics and kinematics. The course also included an introduction into the fields of optics, electricity, and magnetism, with emphasis on Newton's Laws, and the relativistic world of Einstein.

The chemistry students performed lab procedures and explored chemical analysis. They also learned to identify certain elements by scientific methods.

Many frogs lost their lives in the biology classes this year. The "surgeons" dissected and labeled the organs to be used later in the course. Study progressed from tiny plant cells to complex animals and finally to man.

Physical science began with the basics, the metric system, scientific notation, and simple lab procedures. Earth science covered rocks, the water cycle, and air.

This year C. D. O.'s mathematical department received several new computers. The computers will help in independent study. They can be used in the solving of problems, as well as in computerized games. These computers will help in taking attendance and grading. Mr. Hart feels this is an excellent concept in the mathematical department. Later, they may also be used in the history and science departments.

Due to the lack in basic math skills of C. D. O. students, there has been an increase in the enrollment in the general math program.

Math application this year is different from last year. There is more actual application in the course, says Mr. Hart.

Another addition to the mathematical department is a new algebra book. This book has more examples and less reading.

Industrial Arts

Auto Mechanics, Welding, Drafting, Woodworking, and Electricity make up the Industrial Arts classes of Canyon del Oro.

Auto Mechanics, which is using its new shop from last year, has all the latest sophisticated equipment it needs. With the help of the equipment the students can diagnose and repair almost any part of an automobile.

Meanwhile in the welding shop, future welders build projects that will sharpen their skills in welding joints.

Future architects sharpen their wits along with their pencils.

Budding electricians shock themselves, teachers, and other students. They learn about transistors, short circuits, and how to make miniature radios, beepers, and little doorbells.

Beginning carpenters make minor wood articles where the advanced carpenters can make anything they are able to, such as cabinets, bookcases, china cabinets, speaker boxes, and tables.

Business Ed./Home Ec

A new system of teaching concepts was put to use and devised by CDO's business department this year. This program enables students to learn different skills of the business courses offered numerous times a day. In these clerical and business cores, students work at their own speed. Law, accounting, and bookkeeping are among the eight courses in the business core. Advanced shorthand and office machines are offered under the clerical core.

Interior decorating, sewing and cooking are some of the courses offered by CDO's Home Economics Department. Mrs. Stitt, who heads the department, has introduced a new course, hobby art. Students taking this learn macrame, copper tooling and a variety of others. Under childcare instruction students learn how to work with different children between the ages of three and five.

Physical Education

Teaching fundamentals of team sports and group participation was part of the students P. E. program. Exercise programs like our weight lifting and cross country running stress physical fitness. The students are taught playing and scoring rules, which enable them to play the games correctly. The teachers acquainted students with the basic skills, techniques and equipment necessary in P. E. courses. They added two new courses, which were fencing, and the new wet one, swimming. The pool is dedicated to Dennis Weaver. Because of the new regulations C.D.O. experienced co-ed classes on a wide basis this year. Not only were they fun, but they gave the students an opportunity to participate on an equal basis in certain sports. The teachers enjoyed watching their students putting forth as much effort as they could into their physical education programs.

With all that practice we can be assured that the team will do its best during the season.

Canyon del Oro has always had a highly ranked wrestling team, and this year was no exception.

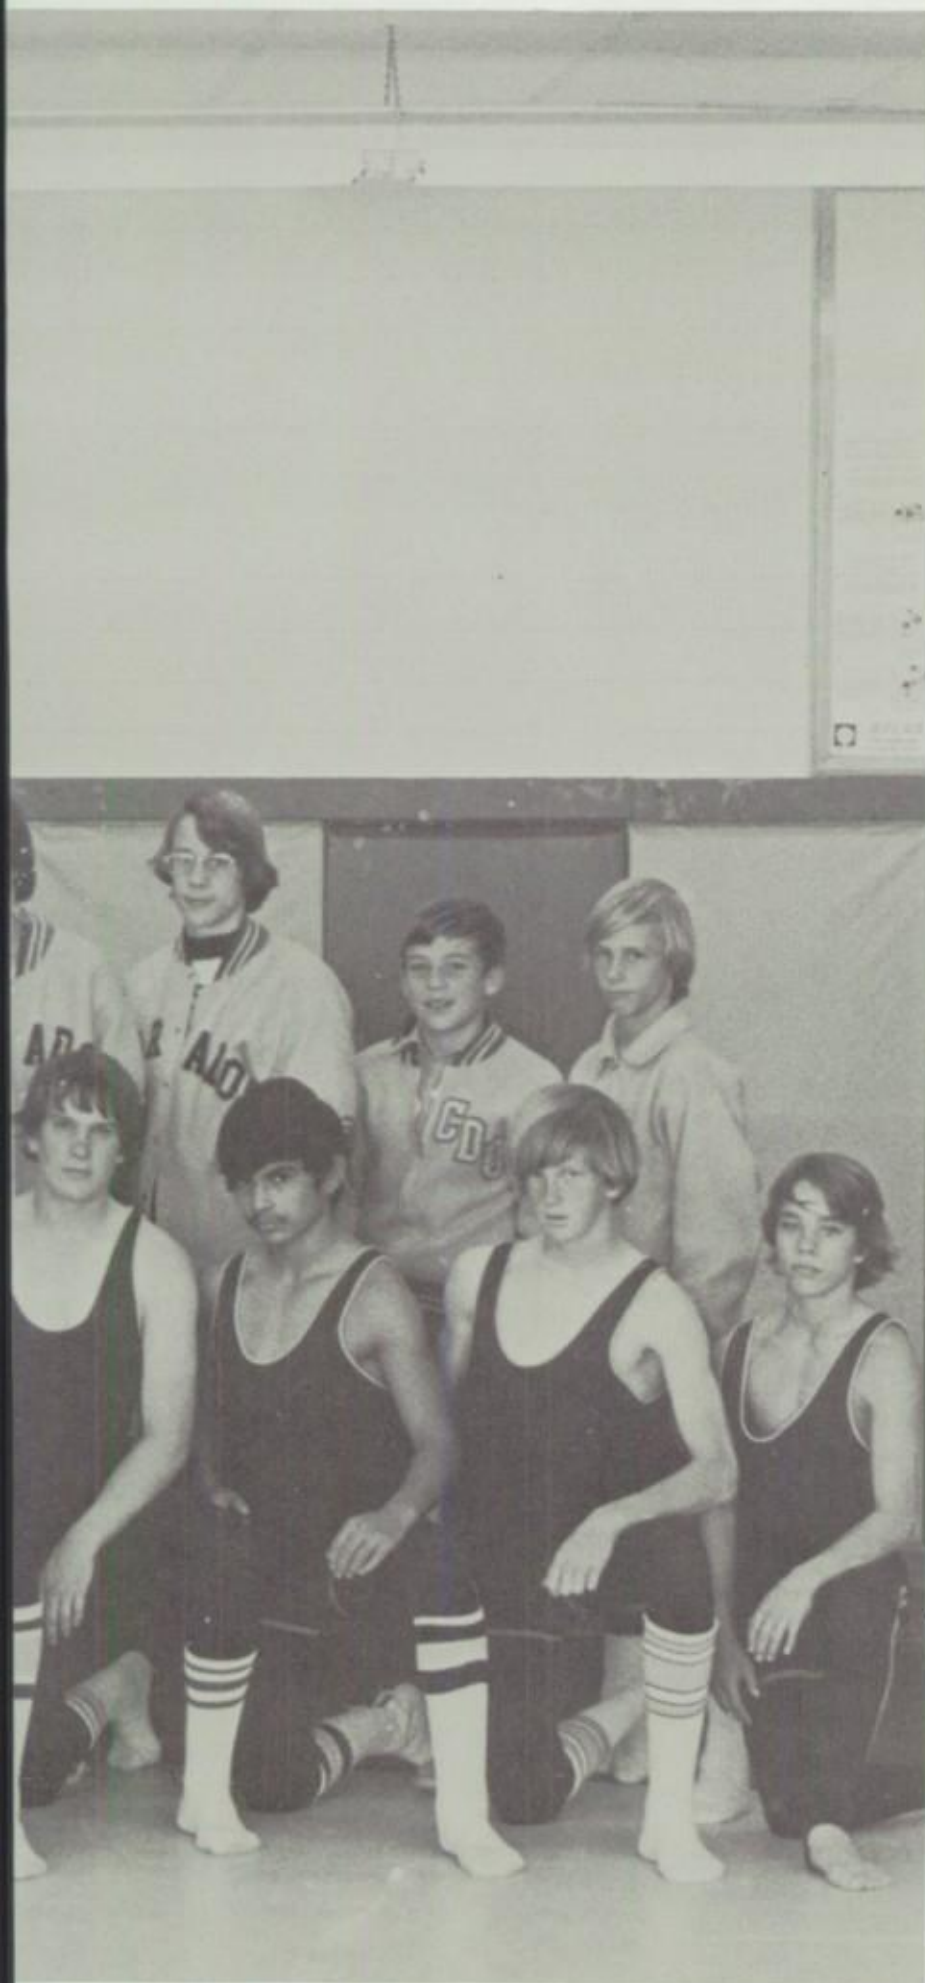

The team had all the qualities necessary for success. The team won all of their individual matches, coming in second in both the C.D.O. Invitational and the Flowing Wells Invitational. In their matches, the team wrestled other teams from both AAA and AA schools. At state many of the wrestlers from Canyon did extremely well.

The team worked hard during the season, but all the members agreed that it paid off after the many victories the team had. The coaches are sure that the wrestlers returning next year (which includes many of this years varsity wrestlers) will do just as well as this years team.

After the worst football season in Canyon history the Dorados appear to have regained their winning form. After losing 17-0 to Amphi, the Dorados won their next three straight, upsetting Eloy, beating Sunnyside, and demolishing a weak Nogales team. After the Sunnyside game, Art Mangels was selected as Citizen "Coach of the Week." The team traveled to San Manuel, where the team repeatedly lost good scoring opportunities. The outcome was a 3-2 loss. Spirit was a key factor in the Homecoming Game against Globe, and the Dorados came away with an easy 17-7 win. C.D.O. then played their rival Flowing Wells, and they gave the undefeated Caballeros their biggest scare of the year. The Dorados led throughout most of the game, but a touchdown with less than 3 minutes left won it for Flowing Wells. The final score: 12-10. The disheartened Dorados then played Douglas, and the Bulldogs won 21-7. But the Dorados recovered, and they won their last 2 games of the season.

After they won only one game out of their first four, the 1975-76 J. V. football team proceeded to win their remaining 5 games for a 6-3 record. With Coach Evers at the helm, Canyon placed second in their AA conference with a 5-1 record, only $\frac{1}{2}$ game out of first place. Two of their victories came by holding their opponents scoreless. Those games were a crushing 28-0 win over San Manuel, and a 56-0 bombing of Bisbee.

Even though the Freshman football team suffered three lopsided losses this season

(which were to AAA teams), by scores of 42-0 to Amphi, 26-6 to Sabino, and 32-0 to Apollo, the Freshman had an equally superb year. Four of the 5 Dorado's victories came against conference teams. Only one game (a 6-0 loss to Flowing Wells, in which C. D. O. had 23 first downs to 3 for the Caballeros) barred Canyon from being this year's conference champs. Mr. Johnson, coach of the freshman squad, expects the team will go far in the next three seasons.

Varsity Basketball

Although this year's team was not as consistent as past basketball teams, especially last year's state runnerup team, the 1975-76 varsity team had a pretty successful season. The squad, in a rebuilding year, lacked depth, and had numerous injuries to key players through the season. One of those injured was sophomore Mark Jung, whose injury kept the Dorados from their full potential. Coach Tissaw also lost the services of All-City center Brian Jung through graduation. But Tissaw made up for the loss in All Conference player Kyle Doda, one of the city's leading scorers.

C.D.O. came in third place in it's conference behind Nogales and league leading Douglas. Douglas automatically goes to state, with the other teams having a playoff among each other. Canyon drew a bye in the first round, and they will play arch rival Flowing Wells in a semi-final game. If they beat the Cabs and Nogales, they will advance to state.

Under the excellent supervision of Señor Sanchez, this year's tennis team followed the tradition of past teams and seasons—winning. All three teams, the Varsity, J.V., and Freshman, put together winning seasons. The Freshman team began practice early last year, while both the J.V. and Varsity squads started around the month of November. Top players on the Frosh team, whose season has already been completed, were Kurt Weber, Mark Morris, Tim Courtwright, and David Brown.

And although the Varsity and J.V. teams have not yet completed their seasons, and the state tournament is in mid-April, C.D.O. appears to be one of the teams to beat.

This was the first year that C.D.O. has had a freshman tennis team. The team finished the season undefeated. The team members were: Lourie Zipf (top player), Annette Troutman, Jody Tudisco, Leslie Elliot, and Sharon Hayes. Annette Troutman and Lourie Zipf were the top double players.

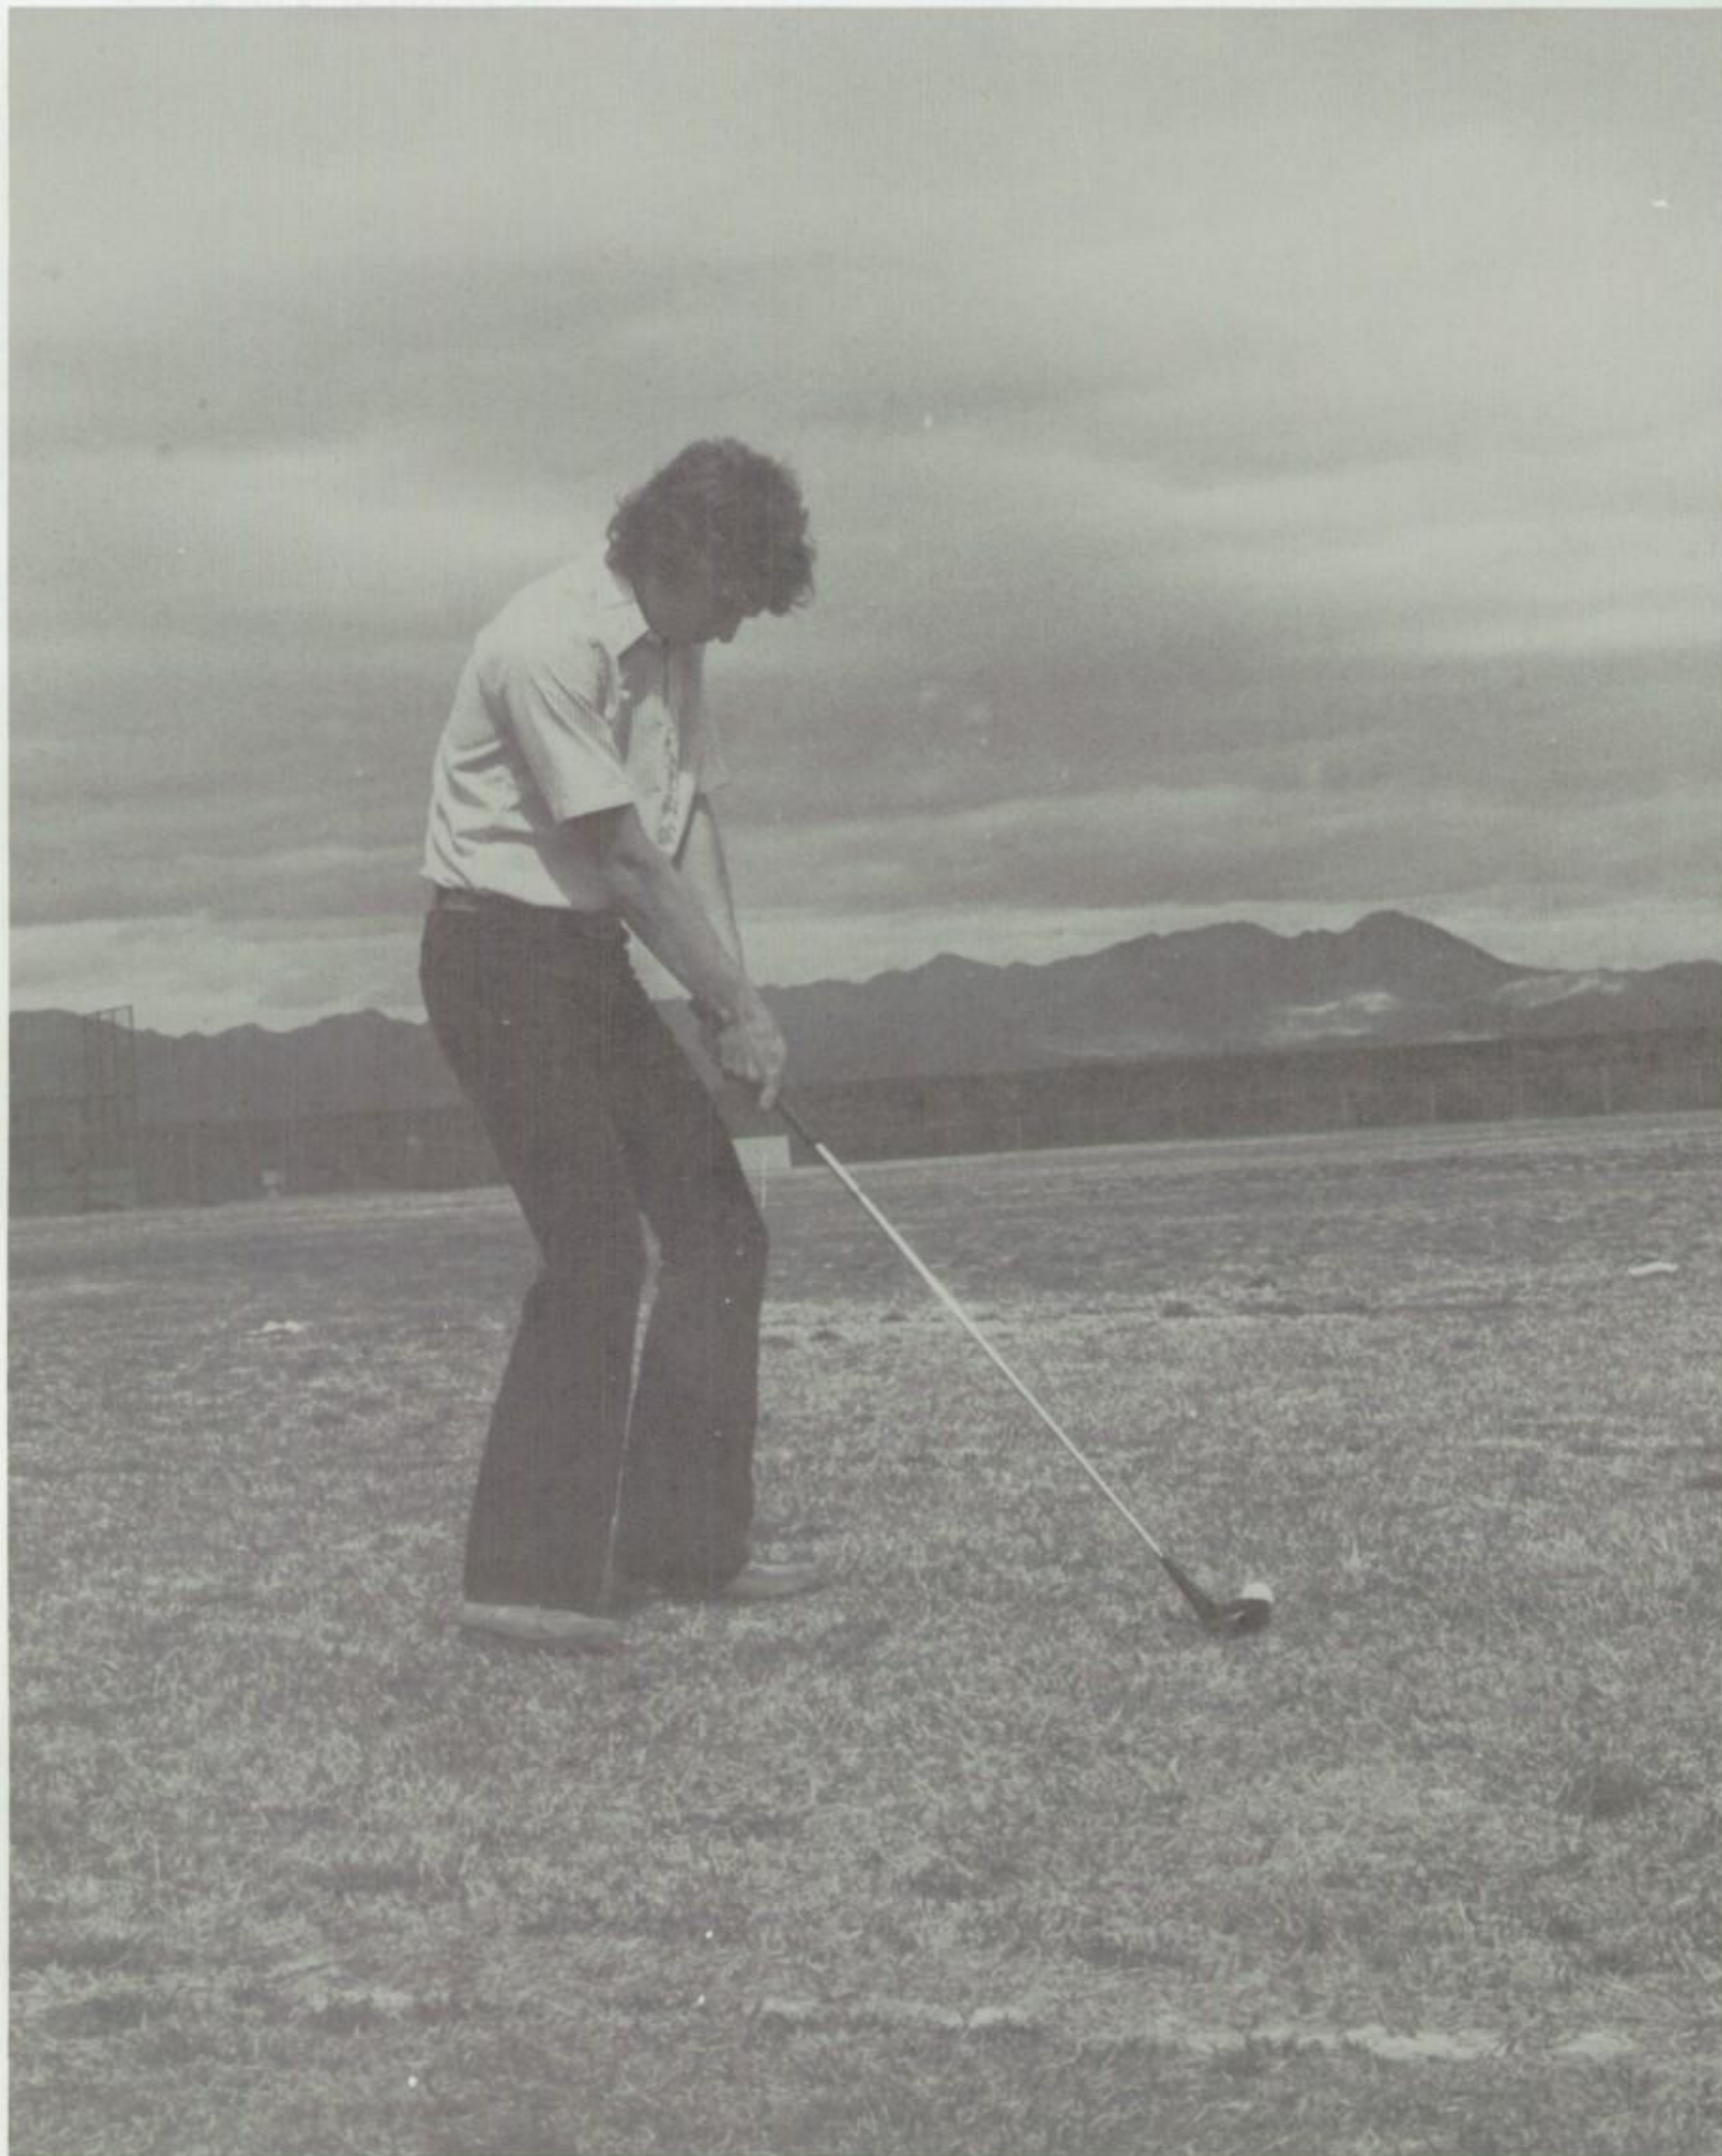

The Junior Varsity team consisted of Pam Otto (senior), Georgia Doda (sophomore), Susan Lamantia (third year on J.V.), and three new players, Robin Franks, Ani Simic and Kathy Bucker.

Our Varsity Tennis team members were Casey Esparza, (top player last year and hopes to be first again this year), Lourie Zipf, (freshman), Lisa Fisher, Lynda Etheridge, (third year in competition), and Sue Dudley, who now holds sixth place.

All the teams hoped to be undefeated this year.

The Varsity team hoped to win state this year so they can defend their title as champions. Ms. Leffler is their coach.

The Canyon del Oro Varsity baseball team should do well this year because there will be many returning players. One of those coming back is Jeff Fisher, who last year was second string All Conference. So he will be a great asset to the team. Another good player is Sophomore Bob Cooper who is one of the pitchers. Other team members are John Vasey, Ollie Shouse, Bob Withers, Steve Kenzie, Wade Midkiff, Calvin Gosla, Eric Gayman, Jim Magrini, and Mark Ziegler. The team will face the tough competition of the Nogales and Douglas teams. There is a lot of enthusiasm and determination in the Dorado players and these points along with their ability to "play ball" are what make the team. One problem that Coach Metz is having with the team is trying to decide which player is best for each position.

The JV baseball team under the direction of coach Hungate looks to having a promising season. With a combination of hard practice and good weather, the team should be ready to take on anybody in the league when the season starts. Although the season has not started yet we wish them lots of luck.

This year, Canyon del Oro's girl volleyball team had an outstanding season under the coaching of Mrs. Eerkes, with 9 wins and 1 loss.

The team, under the direction of team captains Diane Sullivan and Cathy DeWitt, strived to make their wins count against San Manuel, last years state champs, Amphi, a AAA school, Flowing Wells, Bisbee, Douglas, Globe, and Nogales.

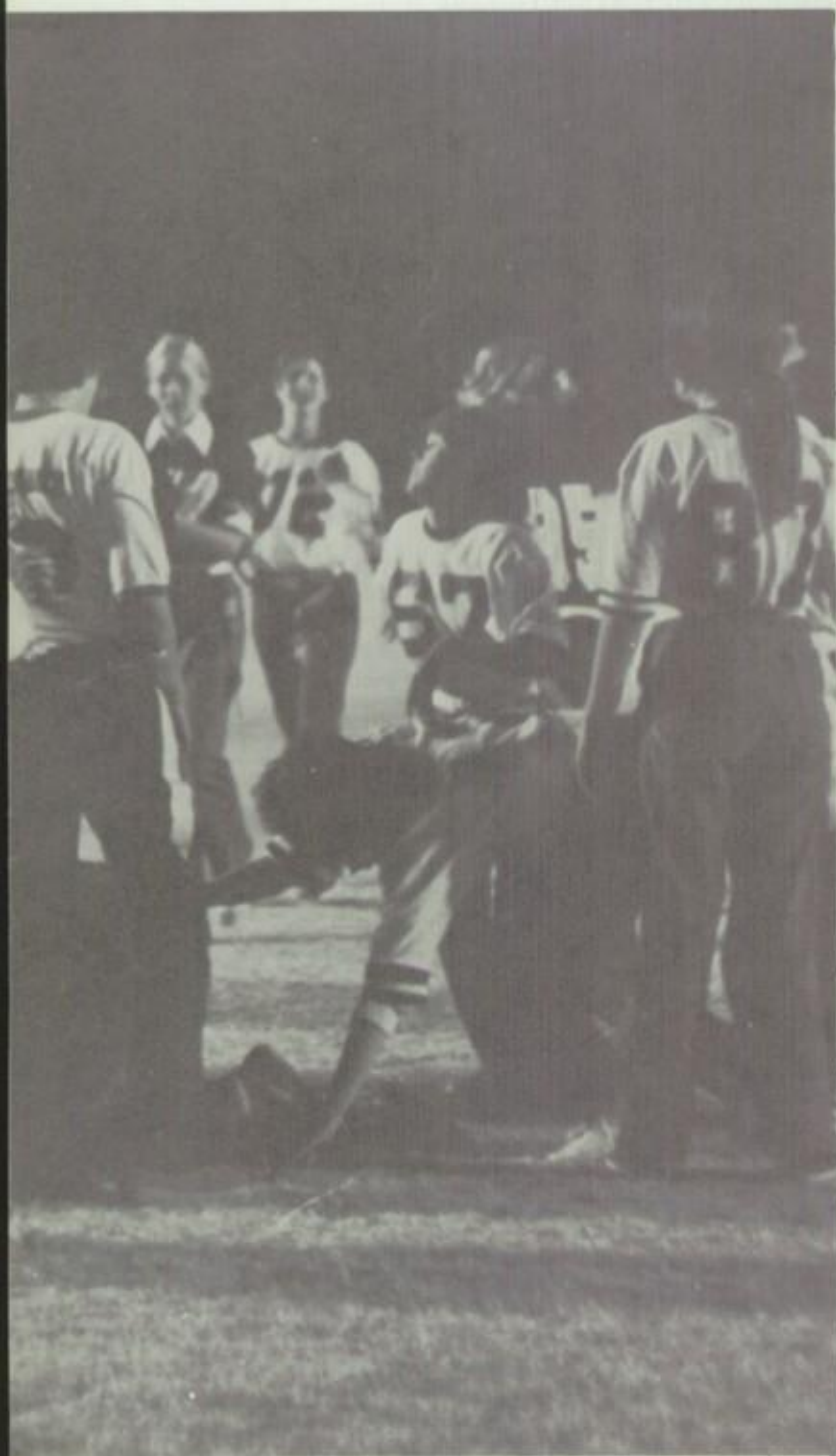

This year the team had several outstanding players such as, spikers

Jenny Taylor and Debbie Matheson, net, Lise Seiber, Barb Lowery, and Cheryl Fanning, and the team as a whole did very well.

There even seemed to be an abundance of supplies this year. Enough so the team even got new uniforms, which was long overdue.

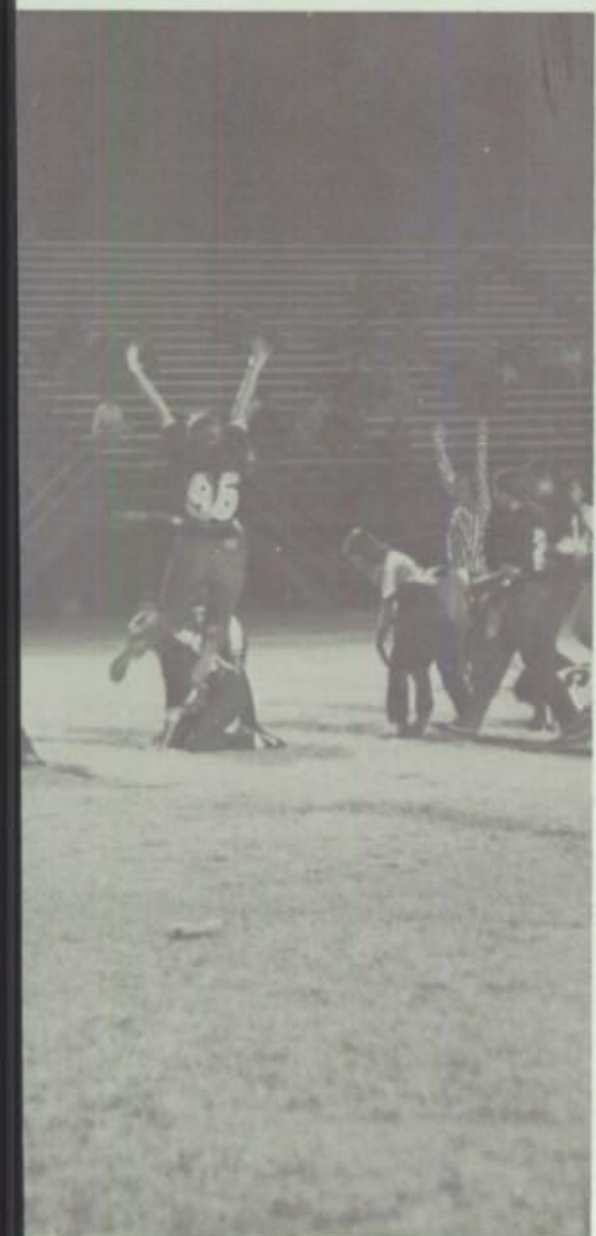

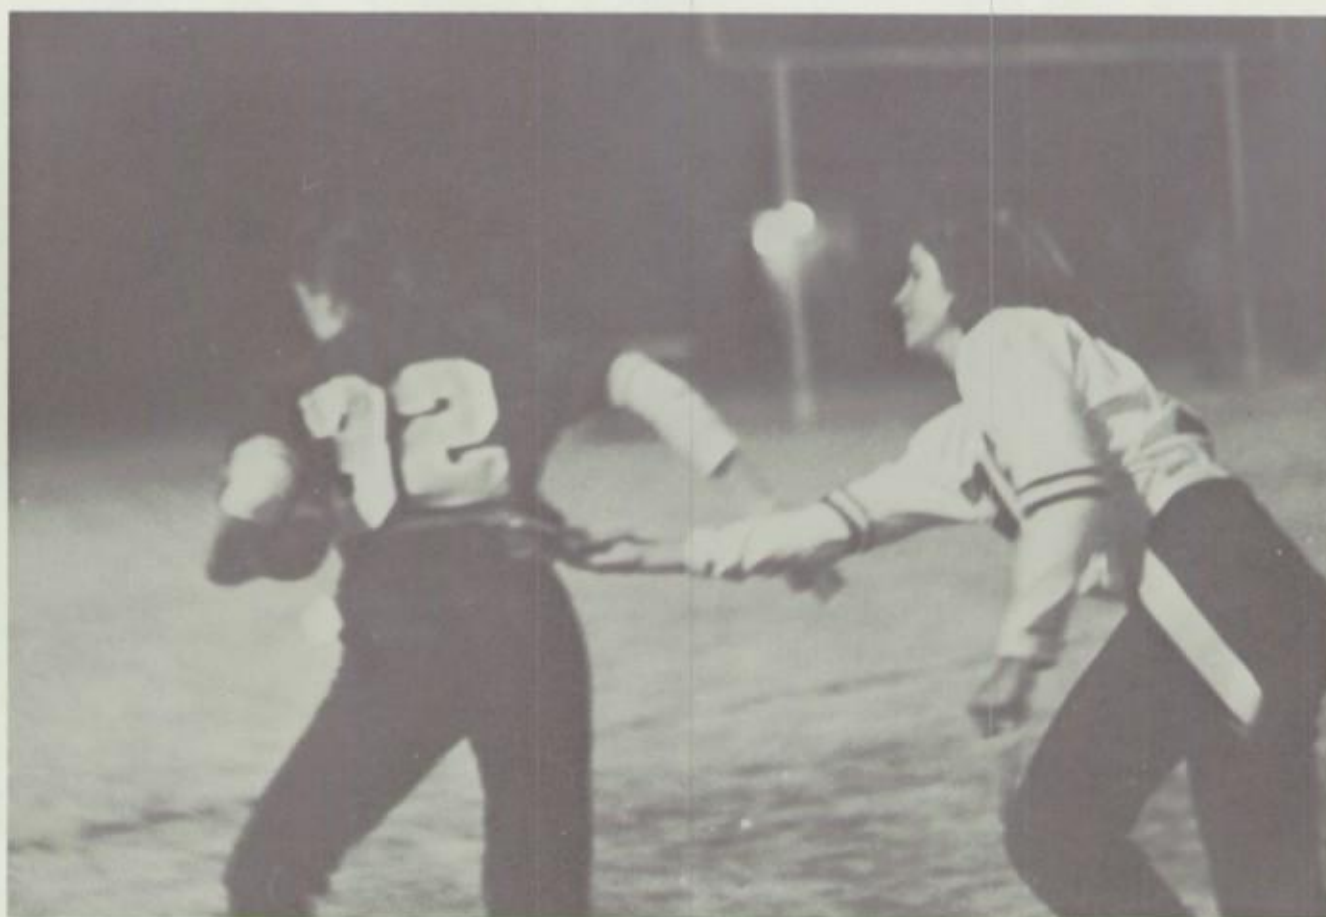

Though the team was seated first at divisionals, they lost to San Manuel, but through it all, the team kept up their spirits and morales and did their best to win.

Powder Puff

The Powder Puff football game provided an exciting night of entertainment as the Seniors victoriously wiped their feet on the Juniors. Although they won the game 8-0, the Seniors went against a tough Junior team. The mighty Seniors traditionally overpowered the Juniors to win this year's game. Many hours of hard work and bruises were put in for the game, but the outcome was worth it! The spirit and sportsmanship remained high for the duration of practice and the game.

Band

The C.D.O. Marching Band was once again, one of the best in the city. Under the direction of Mr. Hoopes, the band performed during the halftime programs of the varsity football games, at pep rallies, and in parades. The highlight of the year for halftime shows was the Bicentennial Homecoming Day. In the center of the football field, the combined effort of both the band and the spiritleaders formed the figure of an American shield.

At Band Day at the University of Arizona, most of the high schools around Phoenix and the Tucson area competed against each other, and later in the day the bands were required to perform during the halftime show at the Utah-U of A game. The C.D.O. marching band was one of the bands that received a superior rating.

There is also a small stage band for the more advanced band members, which performs during assemblies and at pep rallies.

German Club

German Club

The German Club is composed of first and second year students of German and those who have been German students. Kim Meyers, '76, is currently President Activities during the year include managing the German wiener bar at the extravaganza, going to German movies at the University of Arizona, and a trip to the eastside Brauhaus for the annual Oktoberfest. The Oktoberfest comes one week before the American Halloween, and has the dancing and singing so enjoyed by Deutchophiles.

Over the past years several German students have attended school in Germany and visited Switzerland for winter skiing.

The German Club is advised by Mr. Gavitt, a very able man who is deeply interested in Germany and the German culture and languages. He livens up the dull days with vivid accounts of his adventures (and misadventures) in Deutschland.

G.A.A.

G.A.A., the Girls Athletic Association, combines the opportunity for competition in various sports with the ultimate in sportsmanship. The girls in G.A.A. participate in speedaway, basketball, and softball against such schools as Palo Verde, Santa Rita, Cholla, Rincon, and Sahuaro.

According to Ms. Scott, Club advisor, the object of the team is not so much victory, as the full enjoyment of the game itself.

Equipment is borrowed from the Physical Education classes and the varsity teams when available.

American Field Service

The A.F.S. is one of the most active clubs at Canyon del Oro. Every year, the members of the A.F.S. raise $850.00 to pay for the expenses for the annual foreign student exchange. The A.F.S. is totally independent upon itself, for it doesn't receive any help from the administration. Most of the money is raised from the many bake sales, car washes, and other fund raisers, such as pretzel sales at the home basketball games. They also receive 1 cent out of every dollar from Food Giant receipts that are turned in. After the foreign student arrives, he attends A.F.S. meetings and other functions for approximately 1 year. While he is here, both the A.F.S. and the student learn about the different customs and cultures in their country. The club, headed by Mrs. Barnes, also sponsors parties and pot lucks. The Soiree, an international dinner, includes food from around the world. The club meets every week on Tuesday afternoons.

Choir

In the past year, Mr. Hankey has put together a fine choir, consisting of the top fifty-five singers at C.D.O. He also teaches Advanced Ensemble and Advanced Girls. Music Appreciation and Mixed Chorus are his beginning classes, which in time, become superb singers. Mr. Hankey would like all of his students to be able to feel the music in which they are singing, while retaining complete concentration.

This years choirs have performed in concerts at such places as Porter Rockwells, high schools, Pima College, and the University of Arizona. The Advanced Ensemble traveled into other states such as Oregon and California for special engagements. After concerts, the choir classes relax with free days or competitive football games.

Music is a universal language, one which the people of all countries and all generations can understand, and Mr. Hankey has done a very fine job.

Student Government

Canyon del Oro has always had a student council, but not until this year has it functioned as was originally intended. Meeting as a class every day has enabled the members to communicate ideas and suggestions concerning school affairs more effectively. Supervised by Mr. Ritchie, there are five representatives from each class plus the student body president and vice president. As an organization, they have sponsored various activities to involve as many students as possible. For example, during Spirit Week at the assembly and lunchtimes, there was competition between the classes so that each could prove their spirit. The Student Faculty Administration Board is comprised of twelve members, six adults and six students. Their purpose is to review old school policies or consider and recommend new ones. This year they have been very aware of various problems, and therefore quite successful in their attempts to change them.

Chess Club

This year's Chess Team made several good moves; capturing honors in many of their tournaments. Under the direction of Mr. Cortez, the team spent their after school hours polishing skills and sharpening their attacks.

Chess stressed individual competition. However, team functioning formed an important part in the development and training of each member. By pitting themselves against one another in practice games, new insights were achieved.

The chess team competed in regional, divisional, and state tournaments as well as special invitational tournaments held in various locations around the state.

Members of the chess team checked opposition well enough to achieve a second place victory at the Phoenix invitational and fourth place at the Tucson invitational. Mr. Cortez expressed great hope for the teams future success as all the members were freshmen and sophomores and would be returning in the fall.

Students For Environmental Action

Students for Environmental Action club, is made up of students concerned with their environment. This year they had food drives, desert and highway clean ups, earth week, and nueterization for animals.

Officers for the environmental club, are Barbara Murray, president, Jeff Seigrist, vice president, and Robyn Blake, secretary. Posters, contacts, and phone calls are the responsibilities of the publicator, Babs Willey.

Sponsor of the SEA club, Paula Emmerick, expressed the importance of having your pet nuetered. "We are truly concerned with the amount of unwanted cats and dogs populating our environment."

Students raise money this year by having car washes, recycling paper, and selling health foods at the extravaganza. The money was used toward the Thanksgiving food drive, for the underprivileged.

Key Club

This years Key Club members participated in many philanthropic projects throughout the year, such as the profitable car washes, selling of firewood, U of A football concessions, and their donkey basketball game, to name a few. However, the highlight of the year was the marathon dance held in the spring. The Key Club members donated $75 toward a scholarship for a young girl who was in an accident earlier this year.

The Key Club is sponsored by the Desert Kiwanis Club. Every two weeks, two Key Club members are invited by the Kiwanis Club to attend a luncheon at the Coat of Arms restaurant at Casas Adobes Shopping Plaza.

President Jim Collins and Vice-President Ron Molina claim this to be the best and most profitable year the CDO Key Club has ever had. In the previous years, the Key Club was always considered a big joke, but this year people have really come to respect and appreciate the club's importance.

Distributive Education Clubs Of America

D.E.C.A. (Distributive Education Clubs of America) offered Canyon Del Oro students the opportunity to integrate classroom work with practical job experiences. Ms. Greenway is the club's sponsor and is responsible for arranging work experiences in cooperation with students and prospective employers in the community.

This year the D.E.C.A. club of Canyon Del Oro held the fall regional conference which included many schools around Tucson, such as Amphi, Flowing Wells, Nogales, Sabino, and many others. This was just the beginning of the many activities in which D.E.C.A. students participated during the year. Many members entered into the winter and spring regionals. Many of the students went to the state conference. D.E.C.A. hopes to get more of the students of C.D.O. interested in their program in the future.

Rodeo Club

This years rodeo club was more active than ever before. Two of their major projects were the rodeo dance and the mechanical bull.

The mechanical bull caused quite a sensation, in order to ride it, a person had to pay fifty cents and sign a medical release. The result was a lot of fun and a lot of people that stood up the rest of the day.

Hiking Club

Hiking club was designed to give students a chance to get out, hike, learn, and appreciate nature.

Senior Bob Hamilton takes the place of President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer. His duties include setting up hikes and getting everything organized.

In December the club planned a hike to Aravaipa Canyon, but it rained and they had to make plans to go somewhere else.

Guest speakers included Joanna McComb who showed slides of her trip up Mount Rainier over the summer. Another speaker from the Southern Arizona Rescue Association talked about and showed slides of various rescue operations used by the S.A.R.A.

Thespians

Each year a few people who are involved in Theatre are invited to join the International Thespian society. These people are chosen on the basis of points accumulated. Points are gained by acting, lighting, ushering and most other aspects of theatre. The new sponsor for the thespians is Miss Rena Cook. Miss Cook, Who was a student of Mr. Roberts, Is an excellent Actor and has a fine knowledge of the theatre. She has taught both English and Drama before coming to C.D.O. One of the major objectives of the drama dept. this year is paving the way to getting a new auditorium. This year as in the past the drama productions have had to be staged in the round due to the limited amount of space.

The first production this year, the diary of Anne Frank, Starred Sue Ryan as Anne and Shane Swenson as Mr. Frank. This play was enjoyed by almost everyone who saw it. The tragic ending brought forth wet eyes and heavy emotions, and proved once again what the C.D.O. Drama dept. is capable of producing.

Speech Club

Under the direction of John Weismiller this years speech squad enjoyed another productive and successful season. The speech squad is divided into two parts, debate and individual events.

Arguing on the topic of international regulation of scarce world resources, the debate teams achieved recognition in many tournaments. One of the principal victories was a third place senior division win by seniors Bob Wilson and Dan Vinik at the prestigious U.C.L.A. Invitational in Los Angeles. C.D.O. was the only Arizona school to have teams invited. The individual events include Extemporaneous Speaking, Oral Interpretation of Literature (both serious and humorous), Impromptu Speaking, Dual Interpretation of Literature, and one act plays. Zoe Keceioglu took first place honors at the University of Arizona tournament in Extemporaneous and Impromptu Speaking.

Palantir

With pens in hands and thoughts in heads the staff of the "Palantir" kept themselves busy turning out the school newspaper. Appearing once every three weeks, the newspaper staff managed to combine articles related to school activities and local events, with feature articles such as Palmistry, Mental Health, and Magic.

With combinations of controversial editorials and imaginative reviews, the "Palantir" staff displayed their many outlets of creativity.

The thirty-two members of the class headed by Mark Viar, editor in chief and advisor Charlie Beckner, kept up the qualities of the well known publication.

Bible Club

The Bible Club, under the direction of Mr. McAlevy, is composed of students interested in studying and discussing the moral, ethical, and religious meanings and questions contained in the Bible. Interested students of any faith are welcome to attend the meetings, every Tuesday afternoon in Mr. McAlevy's room, for discussion and propounding of the faith, or any faith, for that matter. Argumentation and heckling are cheerfully accepted in a friendly manner, as long as they are delivered in said manner. The club is very tolerant, and willing to teach those who are misguided the true faith. Those who wish to gain acquaintance with the Bible and its religion are welcomed with open arms and open minds. Contact Mr. McAlevy if you are interested. It will probably be worth your while. Surprisingly enough; most learning experiences are. Peace for all is a very good idea when you come to think about it.

Auto-Tech

Auto-Tech club was designed to give auto mechanic students a chance to visit Vocational Trade schools and Colleges.

Duane Francom, Auto mechanics teacher and sponsor of the club explains that the tech club gives the time to work on cars other than just in class. The club meets weeknites after school. A small fee is charged to all members of the club. This year the money will be used to supply the auto-mechanics room with a stereo system.

Club rules require that each member be enrolled in an auto mechanics class.

Equipment provided by the school is always available for the students use. Machines range from the Glass Beader to the Front End Alignment. Students learn the proper use and care of each machine.

Gymnastics

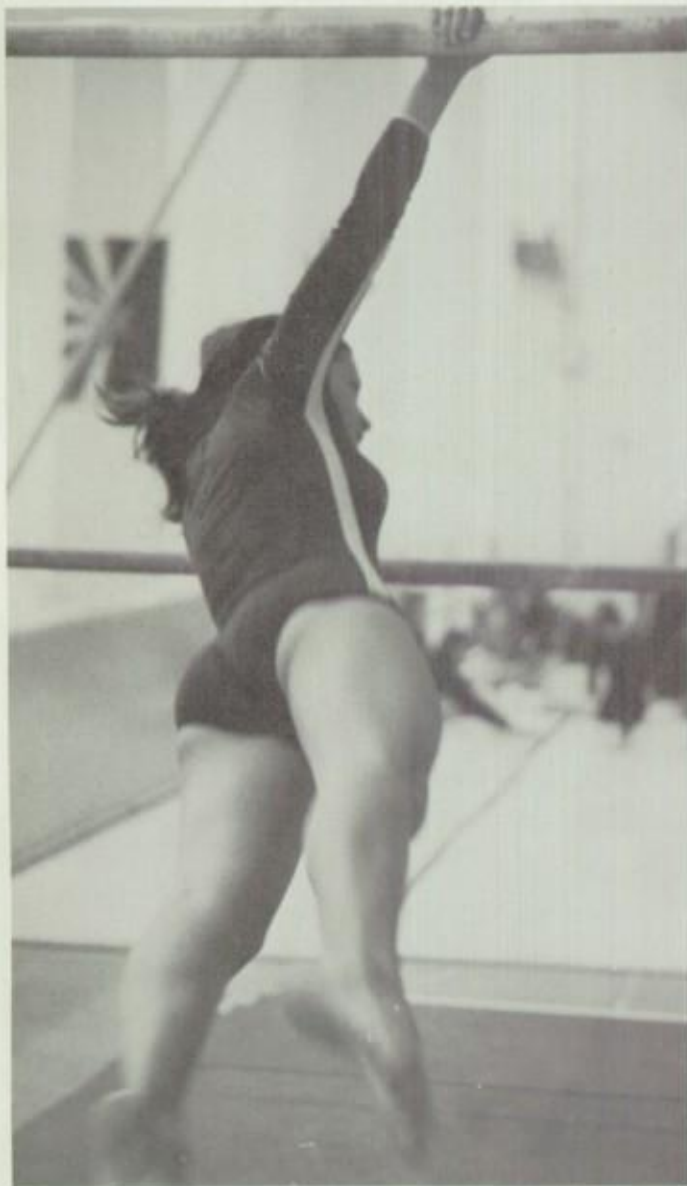

Year round practice is the secret for the success of C.D.O.'s outstanding gymnasts as they combine creative skills and highly developed gymnastic techniques to perform their routines.

C.D.O. students participated in a city-wide gymnastic clinic during September which offered many opportunities for new ideas, techniques, and styles.

Many talented gymnasts returned to the varsity team this year combining their experience and talents with last year's Junior Varsity team to achieve an impressive corps of well disciplined and highly trained performers.

In addition to gymnastic competition the girls on the team also worked with the band to create a routine for halftime entertainment at the football game against Sabino High School.

A victory at the Interstate Gymnastic Meet will capture the state title for C.D.O. for the fourth consecutive year.

Ski Club

Sunrise, Telluride, Denver, Mt. Lemmon, these are the places you were likely to find the Ski Club during the long cold winter holidays. Under the guidance of Senor Sanchez and Senorita Haas, the fifty members of the Ski Club spent their meetings actively planning their outings and discussing the relative merits of various skiing products.

Open to beginning as well as advanced students of the art, the Ski Club provided additional services to its members such as one free lesson per day on trips and discounts on lodging and meals.

For only two dollars and thirty cents in dues, any student willing or able to pay for expenses on the trips was welcome to join the club.

Yearbook

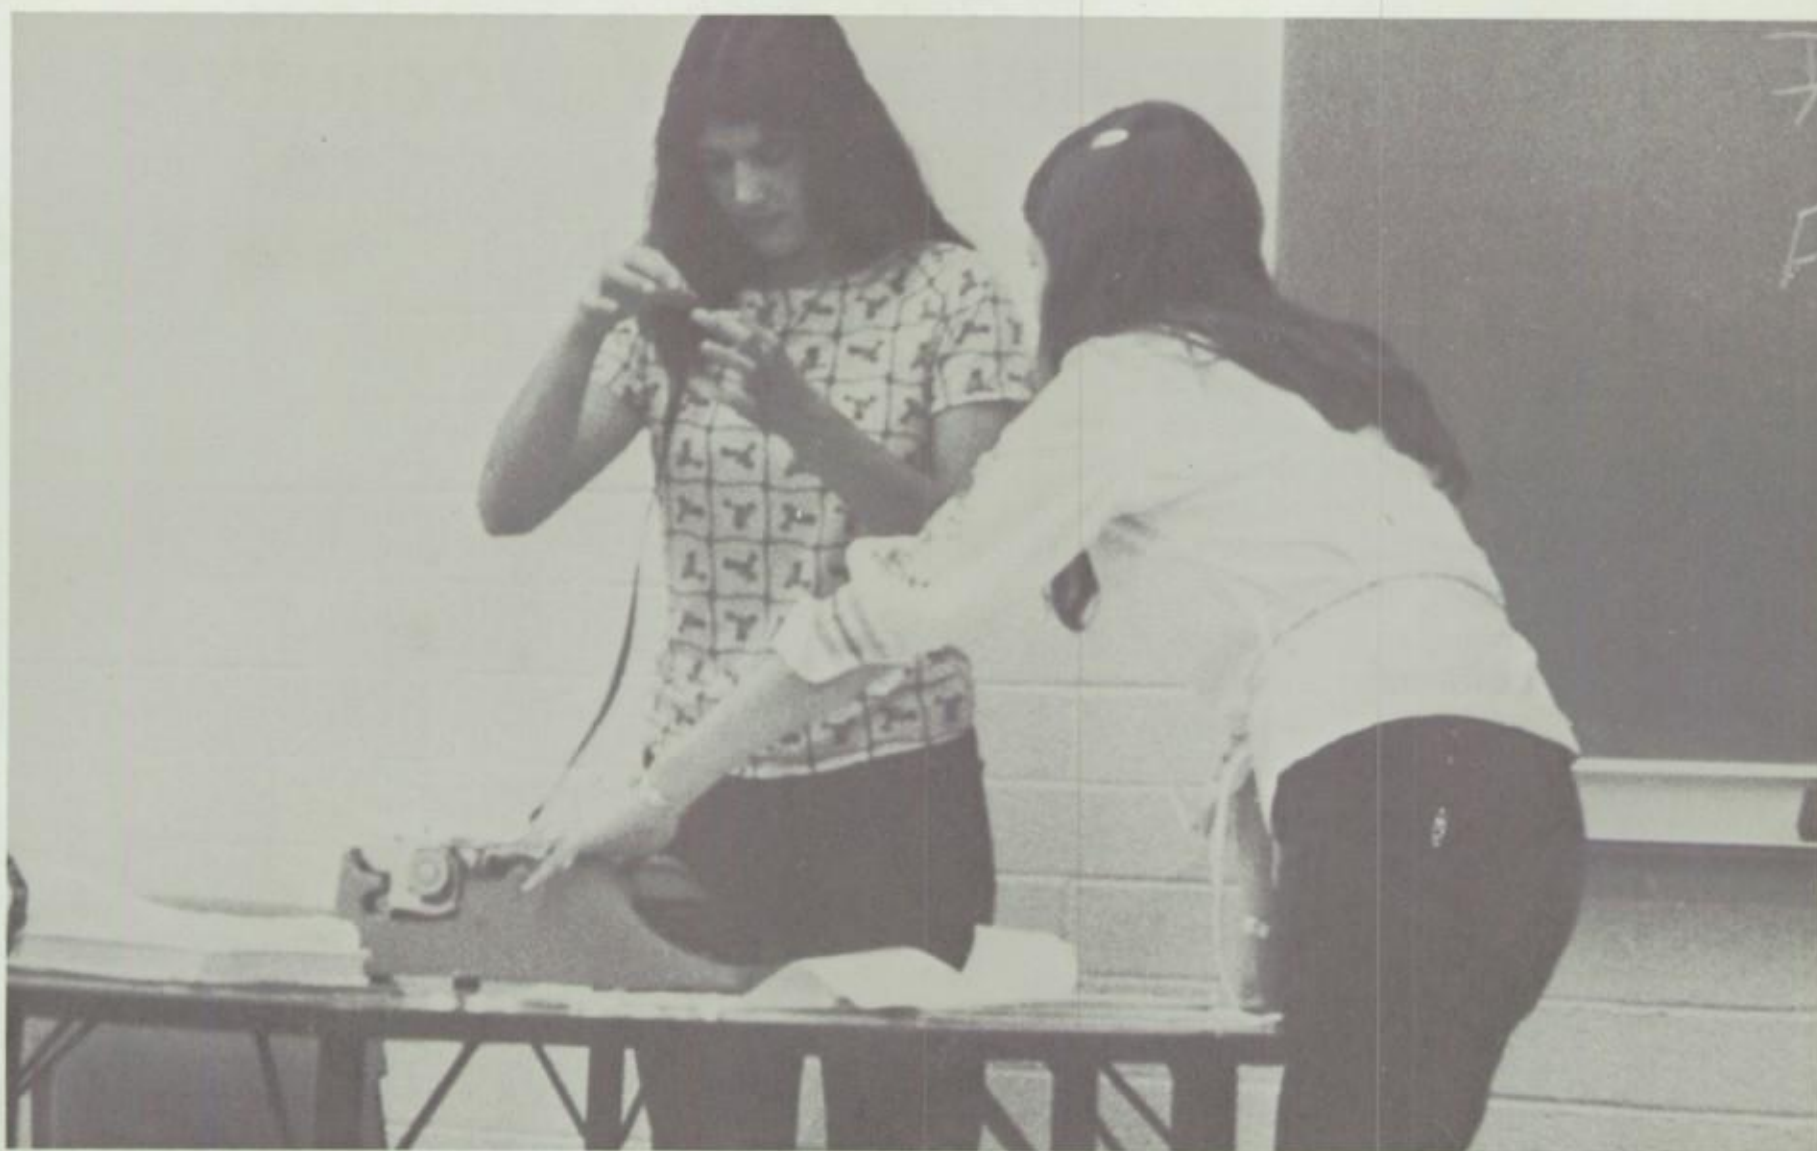

The yearbook staff, although plagued by photographer delays and other problems, managed to produce another yearbook. Under the dubious leadership of Dake Sands and Charles Sheridan, many interesting things occurred, for instance, 22 rewrites on one copy, 250 sheets of photographic paper in one week, and 2:30 a.m. visits to Jack-In-The-Box.

At the beginning of the year, the staff contained over 20 members, by semester approximately 11 remained.

This year the book itself was enlarged by 12 pages and cost 600 dollars over the original contract of 7100. Income to supplement this cost overrun and the photography budget came from Senior pictures and from ads sold by the staff.

The staff wishes to express their thanks to Ms. Roten and all the teachers for their help and support during the year.

National Honor Society

Sponsored by Mr. LoMaglio the National Honor Society is an organization to honor outstanding students for scholasticism, leadership, and character. To be accepted you need the following qualifications; the student must maintain a 3.4 grade average on a 4.0 scale for required subjects, and they must be a junior or senior. There are six faculty members on the committee that must approve the induction of each student.

This year there are eighty-one students involved in the Honor Society. Mimi McGary is the president; vice-president, Marcia Moon; secretary, Mary Kay Jackson; and treasurer, Susan Colder. Throughout the year the Honor Society offers a tutoring system available to all students who wish to take advantage of it. They took part at other functions such as caroling at hospitals at Christmas, participating in hayrides in the spring, and rewarding themselves with a picnic at the end of the year.

Cheerleaders

Standing in the bitter cold in a cheerleading costume leaves one very little choice as far as physical motion goes. Despite this chilling drive, the girls on our cheerleading squad managed to convey a spirit of genuine enthusiasm in all their efforts.

The girls worked very hard at cheers and routines in preparation for every game and event. Endless run-throughs consuming many hours of after school time, did not dissuade these people from participation in their school's activities. Eight girls make up the squad for varsity football. There are six on the J.V. squad and six assigned to the freshman team. There are also eight girls on each of the three squads that support our wrestling teams.

The girl's spirit and enthusiasm truly played a part in each C.D.O. victory.

Songleaders

Marching step for step with the brave individuals of our high school band, this year's songleaders rallied the hearts and emotions of both the fans and our boys on the various athletic teams. Did someone need a poster?

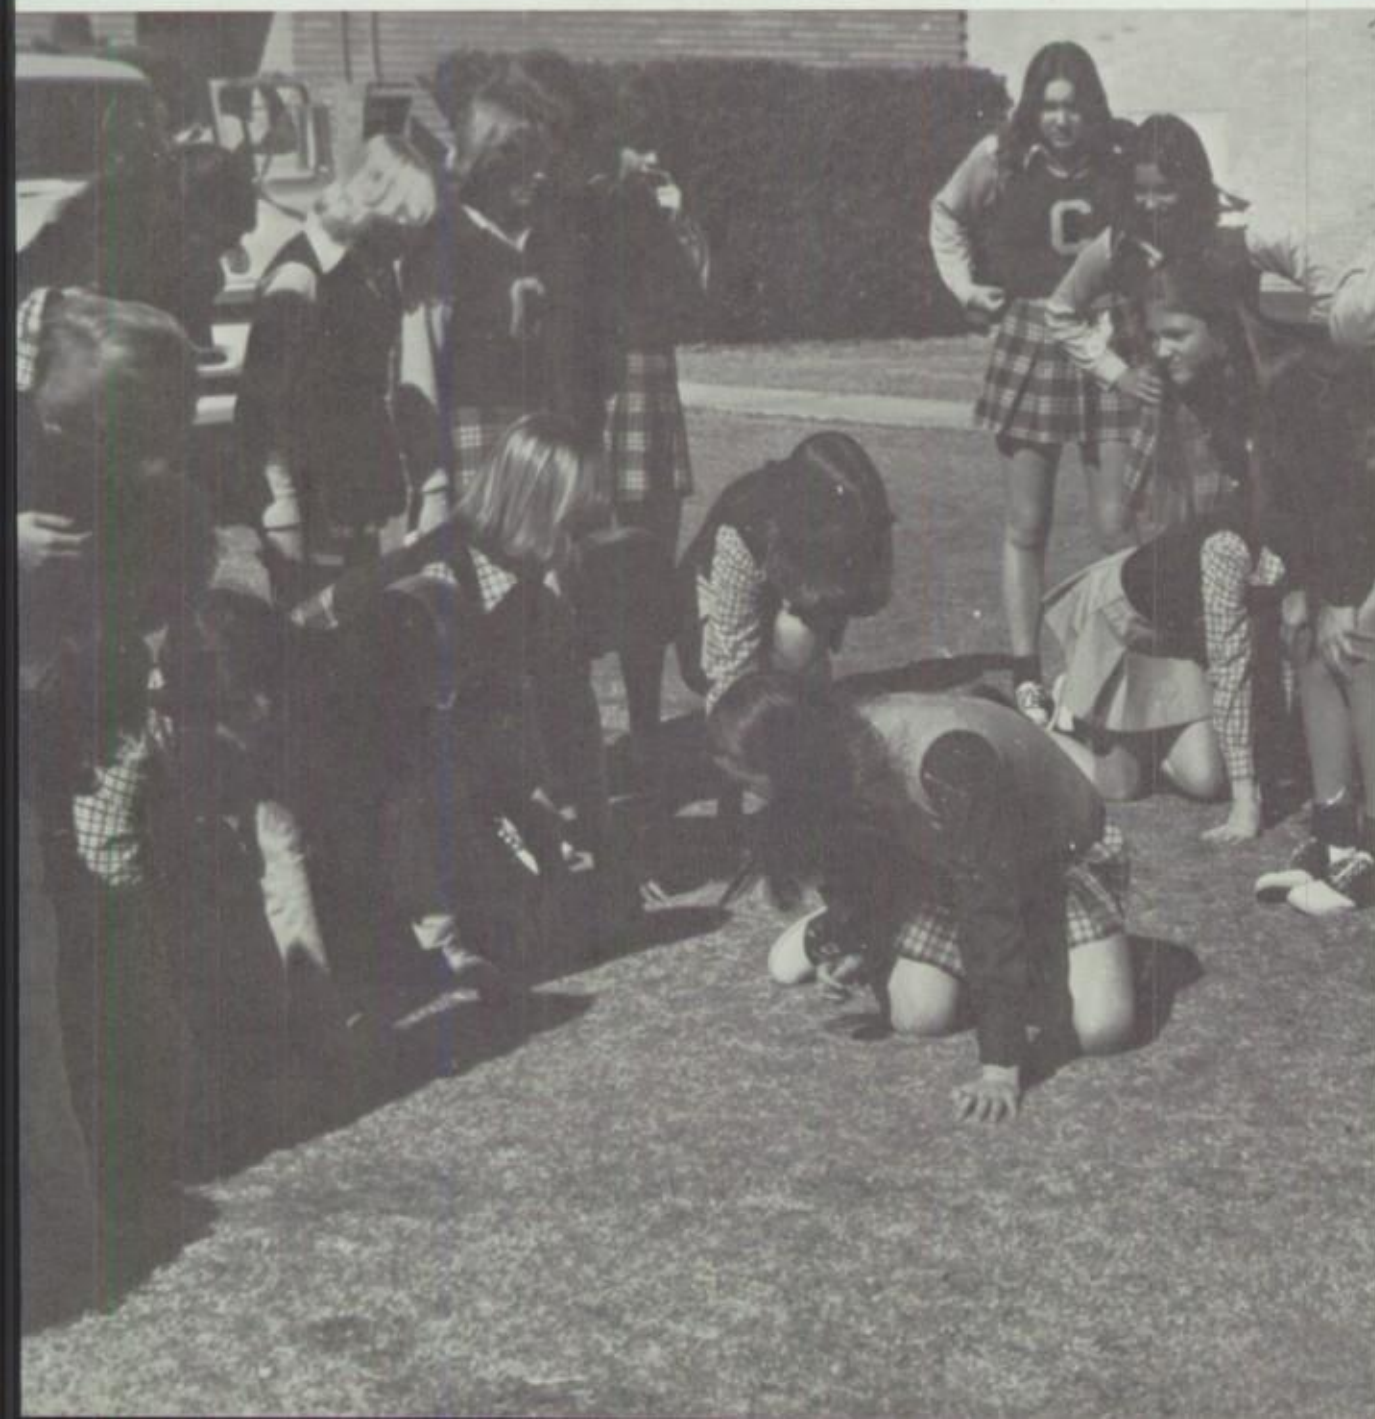

Did an assembly need perking up?

These girls were there, sketching, drawing, and high stepping their way across the entire school year.

Dedicating time, both during and after their academic classes, these girls formed an intrinsic part of that on going process we call, "Our School".

There were twelve members on this year's squad; although the work they did indicated a larger number. Along with performing at athletic functions, the girls also marched in parades and participated in the band day competition.

North Central Evaluation

Every seven years Canyon Del Oro is evaluated by the North Central Evaluation Committee to insure that the standards of the school are equal to or above those of the committee. By passing the evaluation the students from Canyon Del Oro that continue on to college have less problems getting into the college of their choice.

In its evaluation report, the committee suggested more administrators in order to meet the demands of the school. Also suggested in the report was that some form of flexible scheduling and variable length class periods be utilized.

The committee generally praised the faculty saying that they felt that the teachers at Canyon made an honest effort to take the individual differences of students learning rate into account as a part of the educational process. The committee felt that the three administrators at Canyon were excellent secondary school leaders. They seemed sensitive to the students needs and appeared to be totally committed to providing a qualified, well-balanced program. They were able to recognize areas which need attention and were not reluctant to make changes.
